PRESS RELEASE=For Immediate Publication. FROM = S.D.A. KINSHIP.

S.D.A. Gays Attend Kampmeeting =

Seventh-day Adventist gays from throughout the United States attended their first annual Kampmeeting, in August. (1980.) The week-long conference was sponsored by S.D.A. Kinship, the international organization of lesbian and gay Seventh-day Adventists and their friends. The session, held at Payson, Arizona, was also attended by six official representatives of the Adventist church.

The S.D.A. denomination has not heretofore been supportive of gays in the church. However the church has recognized the existence of the Kinship group, and allowed the six church representatives to attend and participate in the Kinship Kampmeeting. Kinship hopes that this meeting signaled the beginning of ongoing dialogues between gays and the church.

Workshop topics for Kinship's Kampmeeting included, "It's OK to be Gay," "Ethics for Gay Christians" "Relationships," and "Being Gay and S.D.A." In the latter workshop, the gays told the church officials of their personal struggle to accept their sexuality in light of traditional Adventist teachings. In another workshop, the seminary professors discussed their interpretations of the seven "homosexual"

Biblical texts.

Kinship members attending the Kampmeeting elected new officers and eight regional directors. The regional directors were elected to provide better geographical representation in the fast growing organization.

Future plans of Kinship involve the formation of local chapters throughout the country, and Canada.

Anyone interested in further information may write Vern Schlenker, Jr., president, S.D.A. Kinship, P.O.Box 4768, San Francisco, CA 94101.

THE ABOVE=is word for word as sent to us = even using the same Type. Information not included in above but in a release to:"The Criterion." is as follows: (Also word for word and in the same Type)

The session was also attended by three seminary professors and three pastors. At the present time the church representatives are preparing presentations for the General Conference Committee, the highest Adventist Administrative body. Also on the agenda of Kinship's Kampmeeting was the election and enlargement of the board of directors from five to sixteen, reflecting the growth of Kinship in the past year.

Vern Schlenker, Jr. (LLU/LSC "71), of Sacramento, CA was elected president of the rapidly growing group. Schlenker, a former teacher in the Adventist educational system, had been a contact person for Kinship in Northern California. Ben Pickell, Jr. of Palm Desert, CA, Kinship's past president, was elected the new vice-president.

Re-elected were: Dean Whitden, Ganado, AZ, secretary; Errol Chamness, Los Angeles, CA, treasurer; and Dennis Grou, Phoenix, AZ, public relations director.

In order to provide better geographical representation, the members of Kinship elected eight regional directors. Elected was Bob Bouchard, Brooklyn... (Sorry! Whoever sent me this XEROX Copy missed one Sentence here...)

Ron Lawson of New York was elected to serve as special liaison to the Adventist church administration.

Dr. Larry Geraty, Berrien Springs, MI and Pastor Josephine Benton, Rockville, MD, were asked and accepted to serve as Kinship's chaplains. Geraty is professor of archeology and Old Testament at Andrews University and Benton is the first woman minister to ever serve an American Adventist congregation...."
